10. Software licences

10.1 The Customer acknowledges and agrees that they may be required to subscribe to certain software licence(s), and use certain software(s) provided by third party, in relation to the Products and/or Services. - 11.4 If the Customer requests that installation takes place outside of normal business hours then the Company shall be entitled to charge the Customer for any additional labour expenses it incurs as a result, unless otherwise and specifically agreed.
- 11.5 Upon completion of the installation the Company shall commission the system and notify the Customer that the system is ready for use and shall submit to the Customer an Installation Acknowledgement and Acceptance Form. Within three (3) business days after such notification, the Customer shall either accept the Product by signing and returning the Installation Acknowledgement and Acceptance Form or notify the Company in writing of those particulars in which the Product is not in conformity with the Contract. Use of the Product or failure to either accept or provide notice as set out above shall constitute acceptance of the Product.
- 11.6 The Company shall take whatever action it deems appropriate after receiving notice of non-conformance to ensure that the Product does conform with the Contract. The Company shall make the final decision as to whether or not the Product conforms with the Agreement.

12. Warranty

- 12.1 Subject to clauses 8.3, 12.9 and 13.3, the Company warrants to the Customer that:
- (a) the Services to be performed under the Agreement will be performed with reasonable care and skill in accordance with any specifications; and
 - (b) the Products to be provided under the Agreement will be free from material defects and will be of the kind and quality, stipulated in the Agreement ("Warranty").

- 12.3 The Warranty does not include any warranty given against defects in, or the workmanship of, parts of the Product which have been manufactured by a manufacturer that is not the Company. Where the Company is not the manufacturer, the Customer acknowledges that whilst the Company may (in its absolute discretion) provide reasonable assistance to the Customer in making a claim against a manufacturer's warranty, the Customer is solely responsible for pursuing such a claim and bearing the costs thereof.
- 12.4 If the Company breaches the Warranty, provided the Customer has given the Company written notice of such breach within the Warranty Period, the Company's liability is limited to the remedies under clauses 12.7(a) or 12.7(b), provided that any Products to be returned must be returned at the Customer's cost. Where the Customer is a 'consumer' as defined in the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth), or the Fair Trading Act of any State or Territory in Australia, then the Customer is also entitled to a refund of the Price paid for the relevant Products or Services. No interest shall be payable by the Company on any such refund.
- 12.5 The liability of the Company for any Loss incurred by the Customer as a result of the Warranty breach (whether the claim is based on contract or negligence) will not in any case exceed the cost of correcting defects in the relevant Services or Products or both. The foregoing shall constitute the exclusive remedy of the Customer and the exclusive liability of the Company.
- 12.6 Any condition, term, guarantee or warranty which would otherwise be implied in the Agreement is hereby excluded to the full extent permitted by law.
- 12.7 Where legislation implies in the Agreement any condition, term, guarantee or warranty ("Mandatory Warranty"), and that legislation avoids or prohibits provisions in a contract excluding or modifying the application of or exercise of or liability under such Mandatory Warranty, the Mandatory Warranty is deemed to be included in the Agreement and the liability of the Company for any breach of such Mandatory Warranty is limited, at the absolute discretion of the Company, to one or more of the following:

 - (i) the replacement of the Products or the supply of equivalent Products;
